

I think that my placement test result does not reflect my language proficiency. May I choose a different language level?

It is important to note that your placement test result may not reflect your subjective wishes, expectations, or past experiences.

It is not possible to change to a lower course level independently. If you have a justified suspicion that the placement test has overestimated your true competences, please contact anna.timukova@rub.de immediately.

A change to the next higher course level is tolerated, but it is your own responsibility to work through any deficits on your own. In this case we also recommend that you seek prior advice from anna.timukova@rub.de.
